

HELLO MALAYSIA

The Malaysia Plan

Ten days across Peninsular Malaysia — routed, mapped, and ready to follow.

-
- KUALA LUMPUR
 - |
 - MELAKA
 - |
 - CAMERON HIGHLANDS
 - |
 - PENANG
 - |
 - LANGKAWI

FREE PREVIEW · 4 PAGES

The full guide is 136 pages with nine maps.
Version 1.0 · August 2026

The most useful thing in the guide is the order. Ten days moving in one direction — south to north, then offshore. You never double back, and the one long transfer sits on a day with nothing else in it.

Nine maps are printed inside, so a flat battery is never a lost day.

An unedited page from the guide. Every day is built this way — and this one is the reason we rewrote a whole leg of the route.

DAY 8 · PENANG → LANGKAWI

Getting to the island

Most guides still tell you to take the ferry from Georgetown. That service no longer runs. Here is what actually works.

THE DIRECT FERRY IS GONE

The Penang–Langkawi passenger ferry was suspended during the pandemic and has not resumed. Older guidebooks, blog posts and even some booking sites still list it. Do not build your day around it.

Option A — fly (recommended)

35–40 minutes in the air, Penang (PEN) to Langkawi (LGK), on AirAsia or Firefly. Booked early it is often cheaper than the old ferry was, and it turns a half-day crossing into a morning.

Book weeks ahead. It is a short, popular hop and last-minute fares climb hard.

Option B — overland via Kuala Perlis or Kuala Kedah

Bus or KTM Komuter north to Perlis or Kedah, a short taxi to the jetty, then a ferry across. It takes most of a day and only makes sense if you actively prefer land travel or the flights are full.

The whole guide

136

PAGES

9

MAPS

5

REGIONS

Before you go — entry, weather, money, allergies, scams	31 pp
The ten days — with addresses, rain plans, what to skip	67 pp
Reference — eating, transport, food glossary, index	31 pp
Swap modules — Taman Negara, Ipoh, the Perhentians	included

- ✓ Two editions — print-ready A4 and mobile
- ✓ Works offline, forever. No app required.
- ✓ Free updates, for as long as the guide exists
- ✓ Bonus printable packing & countdown checklist
- ✓ No advertising, no sponsored listings, no affiliate links
- ✓ Allergy and dietary cards in Malay, to show a cook

~~€39.90~~

€24.90

LAUNCH PRICE · SAVE 38%

One-time payment · instant download
14 days, and you keep the checklist

Get the Plan — €24.90

{{WEBSITE}}